Dear Hiring Manager,

I hope this letter finds you well!

I am Ishan Sinha, looking for my end-of-studies internship. As a student at a top business school, ESSEC, I bring a unique combination of technical and business skills to the table, developed through my diverse background in engineering, management, and consulting.

I also have experience in marketing through video and graphic presentations at the freelance level. In January, during the digital week competition at my college, I had the opportunity to work on a marketing strategy with Orange Telecom for their newly launched metaverse platform. This experience allowed me to delve deeper into the world of digital marketing and understand the nuances of promoting a cutting-edge platform. One of my notable achievements includes my business project, YachtVision, which was a semifinalist in The Mark Challenge at Monaco this year in April. My advertising video and presentation, which showcased how YachtVision could leverage blockchain technology for the marketing of luxury yachts in the metaverse, were well applauded. And recently, I won second place in the EssilorLuxottica Business Challenge hosted by the Alliance of European Business Games. This was a business strategy presentation for the marketing of their newly released Stelless lens.

I'm confident that my previous experiences have prepared me well for the challenges of this role. As an operations engineer, I honed my technical skills and ability to work under pressure in a fast-paced environment. My internship as a data management intern allowed me to gain hands-on experience in the development of cutting-edge technology. Finally, my role as a business research fellow taught me the importance of clear and effective communication and the ability to translate complex ideas into action.

I also developed proficiency in business tools such as Google Analytics, MS Office tools, Canva, Photoshop, Filmora video editing, and Tableau. And as a student of ESSEC, I have acquired a strong foundation in business, marketing, finance and consulting, and I'm eager to put my knowledge into practice.

Thank you for considering I look forward to connecting!

Sincerely,

ISHAN SINHA
